

Lions Code of Ethics

To show my faith in the worthiness of my vocation by industrious application to the end that I may merit a reputation for quality of service.

To seek success and to demand all fair remuneration or profit as my just due, but to accept no profit or success at the price of my own self respect lost because of unfair advantage taken or because of questionable acts on my part.

To remember that in building up my business it is not necessary to tear down another's; to be loyal to my clients or customers and true to myself.

Whenever a doubt arises as to the right or ethics of my position or action towards my fellow men, to resolve such doubt against myself.

To hold friendship as an end and not a means. To hold that true friendship exists not on account of the service performed by one another, but that true friendship demands nothing but accepts service in the spirit in which it is given.

Always to bear in mind my obligations as a citizen to my nation, my state and my community, and to give to them my unswerving loyalty in word, act and deed. To give them freely of my time, labor and means.

To aid my fellow men by giving my sympathy to those in distress, my aid to the weak, and my substance to the needy.

To be careful with my criticisms and liberal with my praise; to build up and not destroy.

Greetings and Welcome.....

to the Fairmont Lions Club members, former members, visiting Lions, Lionesses, ladies and other distinguished guests who have joined us tonight to celebrate the 70th anniversary of the founding of our club.

We especially want to honor all of our Past Presidents with us tonight and to pay our respects to those who have served during the past 70 years.

The Fairmont Lions Club, organized April 20, 1923, is proud to have served the community in various ways, with emphasis placed on supplying eyeglasses and on sight conservation.

Lionism has grown to be the largest service organization in the world. The Fairmont Lions Club has met many challenges during the past 70 years. Many of our goals have become a reality in recent years with the assistance of the Fairmont Lioness Club.

We deeply appreciate your sharing in celebrating our 70th anniversary and furthering the cause of Lionism.

Looking Back To 1923

It was 1923, and the United States of America had only recently come out of a "war to end all wars." Warren G. Harding was President and Calvin Coolidge was his vice president.

The World War that had raged in Europe only a few years earlier had forced the country from a period of relative isolationism into a growing leadership role the nation was perhaps not quite ready to assume.

In Egypt, the inner tomb of Tutankhomen had been opened just two months before, and reports still were enthraling the world with stories of undreamed splendor still untouched after 3400 years.

The winds of change were everywhere. Vladimir Ulianov, or Nikolai Lenin as he was known to his Bolshevik compatriots who assisted him in seizing control of Russia, was solidifying his powers and building a new political and geographic nation—the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. In India, still firmly under British colonial rule, Mohandas K. Gandhi sat in prison, arrested on charges of sedition.

Amid labor unrest, West Virginia—still less than 60 years old— was becoming increasingly important to an industrially-developing nation, with its vast oil, gas, and coal reserves. A West Virginian, John W. Davis, was being considered as a viable candidate for President on the Democratic ticket for the following year.

Fairmont, in the heart of West Virginia's growing bituminous coal industry, was a thriving community with over 18,000 people and a county population of 55,000. Downtown Fairmont, with a modern streetcar system that brought residents of nearby communities to the business district, was bustling, and several new commercial buildings had been recently constructed or were under construction. The Fairmont State Normal School had only a few years earlier moved to its new location on Locust Avenue and was seeking permission to grant a degree in education.

It was in this atmosphere, then, that the Fairmont Lions Club was born with the granting of a charter by the International Association of Lions Clubs on April 20, 1923, becoming West Virginia's sixth Lions Club and the first club in north central West Virginia. Lionism was on the move throughout the United States and Canada, with clubs in 42 states and four provinces.

Starting at the YMCA in Fairmont, the Fairmont Lions Club soon moved its meetings to the prestigious Fairmont Hotel, where it held Friday noon meetings until 1935, when it switched to Friday evening meetings to accommodate members from outlying businesses and industries. Then, in 1980, the Fairmont Lions Club said "farewell" for good to the Fairmont Hotel and Friday evening meetings.

Today, as we look back upon our first 70 years, we can only speculate or report from news clippings and hearsay what that first meeting at the Fairmont YMCA must have been like. For, we have not one single surviving member from among the charter members of 1923. The last surviving charter member, Dr. H. R. Yost, the first president, was ill during our fiftieth anniversary program in 1973 and died shortly after that date.

Since the Fairmont Lions Club came into existence those 70 years ago, our world has grown much smaller as the result of so many products never dreamed of in 1923. As Lionism has become global in its scope, the purpose to which Lionism was born --fellowship and service -- remains as important today as it was on April 20, 1923. Today, third and even fourth generation Lions still are dedicated to these same principles. And, we number among our membership several who still will be here thirty years hence, In July 2023, when Lions come together on a Saturday evening to celebrate 100 years of Lionism in Fairmont and Marion County.

We Serve

During its seventy years of existence, The Fairmont Lions Club has faithfully served the people of Fairmont and Marion County, with particular emphasis on those less fortunate individuals and those with sight and hearing impairments.

From its earlier organizational efforts in March 1923 and subsequent official organization on March 20, 1923, the over 800 men who have been members of the Fairmont Lions Club have put forth a maximum effort to render true service to their community.

The Fairmont Lions Club has purchased over 3,400 pairs of eyeglasses for school children, as well as scores of others for needy adults. In their glaucoma and amblyopia clinics—begun in 1971—the Fairmont Lions Club has helped to check over 10,000 adults for glaucoma and over 3,000 children for amblyopia and other eye diseases and defects. Early detection of these two eye diseases has resulted in early treatment and prevention of more serious visual problems.

The Fairmont Lions Club began a program in 1935 that has continued to this day and has become an annual Christmas tradition—a Christmas party for underprivileged children. For the past 56 years, this program has been held in conjunction with the Union Misson, and some 4,500-5,000 children have received Christmas gifts, clothes, candy, fruit, etc. from Santa Claus and the Fairmont Lions through the Union Mission Children's Christmas Party.

Lions of Fairmont in 1936 conceived the idea of a "blackout warden unit" that was later to become the Civil Defense Police and today the Marion County Auxiliary Police. Lions also have been active in promoting many other civic and cultural enterprises which we take for granted today.

Since 1951, the Fairmont Lions Club members have taken to the streets to sell brooms and mops manufactured by the Industrious Blind Enterprises at Stonewood in order to assist that worthwhile group while raising funds for the club's many civic and charitable projects.

To write a complete history of the service of the Fairmont Lions Club would take a minimum of seventy volumes—one for each year of the club's existence. Suffice to say that the Fairmont Lions Club has contributed over one million dollars to community service activities and members of the club collectively have contributed well over a million man-hours in service to their community through Lionism. And when you consider those 35-cent meals of 1923 compared with the meal of today, that's a lot of today's dollars!
